

Why Intro to Missiology Matters

Missiology—the interdisciplinary study of mission theory and practice—forms the essential foundation for effective global outreach. As missions represent the lifeblood of the church, their decline directly correlates with diminishing church vitality. Yet only 0.02% of evangelicals currently serve as missionaries to the 3.1 billion unreached people worldwide.

0.02%

Evangelical Missionaries

Portion serving unreached populations globally

3.1B

Unreached People

People without access to the gospel message

$3.96B

Annual Funding Need

To support 66,547 more missionaries for unreached groups

Intro to Missiology equips leaders with crucial knowledge in theology, cultural understanding, history, strategy, and spiritual formation. This comprehensive foundation helps churches effectively plan growth, strategize outreach, and allocate resources—building globally-minded leaders who can create sustainable mission impact worldwide.